

Tehmina Khan:

We are all the heartbeat of AFT, so AFT needs all of us together in the aftermath of COVID-19, as we seek out new leadership. We are a community of scholars, intellectuals, and problem-solvers who can create a more just and inspiring college if we come together. As a faculty member and a union leader, I strive to embody an ethic of love and social justice. I am committed to facilitating a culture of liberation in our union leadership as well as in our college as a whole, so that the truth can set all of us free.
