

The Chancellor's Program:

- 400 fewer classes
- Faculty layoffs
- A broken registration system
- A top-down scheduling process
- Higher "productivity" (aka larger classes)
- Zero tolerance for classes with fewer than 20 enrolled
- $200K admin salaries
- A permanently downsized college

vs.

A Truly Student-Centered Program:

- A rich, diverse curriculum that serves all San Franciscans
- A dedicated corps of full-time faculty
- A clear, easy registration process
- A transparent, collaborative scheduling process
- Concrete, targeted outreach for low-enrolled classes
- 15-student minimum class size
- A budget that prioritizes the classroom
- A college that serves our community

Dismantling Public Ed

PLAYBOOK

City College of San Francisco

Spring 2019
Mid-Semester Flex Day
Tuesday, February 5, 2019

It is no secret that “productivity” is just a fancy, higher-education term for LARGE CLASS SIZES. Teachers in West Virginia, Oakland, Los Angeles, etc. have taken powerful action against large classes, under-staffing, and a lack of resources. Now, the agenda that led to these conditions in K-12 education is camping at our doorstep, finding ever-creative euphemisms and gateways for imposing the very same agenda on our vital community college system.

The #RedforEd struggle is about the fight for the future of public education—a fight that we know all too well here at CCSF. Just as we resisted the shrinking of our college by the ACCJC, we must now stand up to our own Chancellor’s effort to downsize our college in the name of these destructive agendas.

TIME	TITLE	PROGRAM
8:00am	Breakfast Truck	Enjoy the donuts! DON'T think about the news from VCAA Boegel of massive cuts to the fall class schedule.
9:00am	Chancellor's Address	Enjoy this charming, feel-good address that will resonate with your values. DON'T think about the classes on the chopping block that promote equity and retention.
9:30am	Play: The Defamation Experience	Enjoy this engaging production that will give you an opportunity for thoughtful, conversation about race with your colleagues. DON'T think about the social justice and diversity classes at risk of being cut.
9:45am	Concurrent Workshops	Pick a workshop and fully engage with it! DON'T think about the registration problems that have sabotaged enrollment.
12:00pm	Boxed Lunch	Eat. Relax. Enjoy your colleagues. DON'T think about VCAA Boegel's new zero tolerance policy for classes of fewer than 20 students.
1:00pm	Play: The Defamation Experience	Enjoy this engaging production that will give you an opportunity for thoughtful conversation about race with your colleagues. DON'T think about the social justice and diversity classes at risk of being cut.
1:15pm	Concurrent Workshops	Pick a workshop and fully engage with it! DON'T think about the registration problems that have sabotaged enrollment.
3:00pm	Department Meetings	Strategize with your colleagues. DON'T think about how to manage the workload increases, write SLOs, help students register, promote our classes, and work double-duty as faculty and lab-aids.